

Beach House™
Shake Created by Tando

Yeah, It's Really That Good.

For some, cedar shakes personify the look and feel of coastal living. For others, it's an architectural style and personal statement that celebrates the beauty of nature. Regardless of motivations—or geographic location—that look of natural beauty comes at a cost.

The Response to a Cedar Dilemma

Home exteriors take a pounding from Mother Nature all year long. For homeowners with natural cedar exteriors, the advent of spring means spending less time celebrating the season, and more time scraping, painting, oiling, and replacing damaged cedar shakes. Until now, this literally was the price homeowners paid each year for the look of natural cedar.

Beach House Shake was created by Tando in response to the unique needs of homeowners looking for a low-maintenance exterior that doesn't compromise the authentic beauty of cedar.

The Beach House Shake Promise

Beach House Shake is the whole package: beauty, performance and endurance.

It's impervious to moisture—perfect for ground contact and roofline applications—resulting in moisture management concerns being a thing of the past.

Created with the installer in mind, the lightweight panels make one-person installation fast while reducing labor cost. No special tools or fastener systems are required – a hammer or nail gun is all you'll need. Moreover, it's backed by the most aggressive product warranties in the industry – a fifty-year performance plus and a ten-year “looks like new” warranty.

Now available in three colors, Beach House Shake is as authentic to natural cedar as it gets.
